MARCH 5, 2023 THE SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

Dear friends,

"This is my beloved Son . Listen to him." How often do we hear people complain—"You're not listening to me!" Listening is more than just "hearing" the words that people are saying. Fr. Walter Burghardt, a well known scripture scholar says that "listening to the scripture readings at Mass is not the same as reading a book or listening to music. When the readings are proclaimed, Jesus himself is speaking to us. Now. Here is the risen Christ, opening up to us the meaning of the scriptures just as he did to the disciples on the road to Emmaus. And we can respond, as the disciples did, "Did not hearts burn within us...while he opened the scriptures to us. But for this to happen, our hearts have to be open. We have to be able to say, as Samuel did, "Speak Lord for your servant is listening."

But again, there is something distinctive here. Listening to Jesus is not the same as listening to others. The same intensity, yes, the same openness, but a greater risk. When the Father told Peter, James and John, "Listen to him," he was saying "Obey him, do what he tells you, follow him." To listen to Jesus is to be his disciple, to listen the way Abraham listened to the Lord and left his country and family and his father's house, as we heard in our first reading from the Book of Genesis.

So we ask ourselves: Is this how I listened to the word of God. Or, do we perhaps rephrase the response of Samuel: "Speak Lord and I will think it over." If we really listen to the word of God, then there is a good chance of hearing him in our daily life. This is Jesus who will speak to our hearts as truly as anyone we have profoundly loved, speaks to our heart.

Leaning into the journey of life,

Fr. Gene Schroeder

DOG IS A WAY OF THINKING

My language, which likes to prove I am not alone, wants

to talk to me again
today. It's telling me, Don't forget: you want to be less like Homer and not at all like Milton, but more like your dog. Your dog, my language

says, knows things are
there, doesn't want
blindness to see

a world, only a nose
to know what's

knocking now, who's on her way home. There's no yesterday.

Your dog,
if he could

talk, my language tells me, would, every
day, like a radio,
catch an air wave and
say, "Today....."

Magdalena Zurawski

Please remember in your prayers
Rosemary Freeman, the mother of Pat and Mark Freeman and grandmother of Evan Freeman, Rebecca Black the mother of Kristi Elsner who died recently. Remember also, Shawn Wilde, who was married to the niece of Alan and Joan Inken-brandt. Shawn was killed in a tragic shooting this past week. May God grant them eternal rest and may His peace be with all the members of their families.

EASTER FLOWER MEMORIALS

Once again we are inviting you to remember your loved ones at Easter. Send your contribution along with the names of the people you want to remember to the parish office (through the collection or through the mail) by April 3rd. The names will be published in the Easter Bulletin.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

JOIN US FOR OUR NEXT DAY OF PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS MARCH 7-8

TUESDAY AT 6 AM AND CONCLUDING ON WEDNESDAY AT 6 AM

Could you not keep with me one hour? We are asking available parishioners to consider signing up for a Weekly Holy Hour on Monday, 7 am-6 pm. Currently when someone can't fill their Holy Hour at times it goes unfilled! If you can't make a weekly commitment, we can put your name on the list of substitutes to fill in as needed. At this time every hour is filled, we need to have 2 or more at each hour. Every 6 weeks on Tuesday we have 24 hour Perpetual Prayer for Vocations. So can you find it in your heart to come and spend an extra hour a week other than your Sunday obligation and pray for our church and country? There are lists for both Monday and Tuesday in the back of Church to sign up. Questions? Call Terry, 812-963-3149 or Imogene, 812-963-5221

CARING FOR OUR COMMON HOME

In this year of Eucharistic Renewal, we continue reading Pope Francis's teaching letter (encyclical) entitled Laudato Si—Caring for Our Common Home and seeing the real presence of God in all things.

It is possible, however, to broaden our gaze again. Human freedom is capable of limiting technology, of orienting it, and of putting it at the service of another type of progress, healthier, more human, more social and more integral. For example, when communities of small producers opt for less polluting production systems, supporting a non-consumerist model of life. Or when the technique is oriented primarily to solving the concrete problems of others, with the commitment to help them to live with more dignity and less suffering. And again when the creative search for beauty and its contemplation manage to overcome the objectifying power in a sort of salvation that is realized in beauty and in the person who contemplates it. Authentic humanity, which invites a new synthesis, seems to live in the midst of technological civilization, almost imperceptibly, like the fog that filters under a closed door. Will it be a permanent promise, despite everything, that blossom as a stubborn resistance to what is authentic?

On the other hand, people now do not seem to believe in a happy future, they do not blindly trust in a better tomorrow based on current world conditions and technical skills. People see that the progress of science and technology is not the same as the progress of humanity and history. There are other fundamental paths for a happy future.

However, many people can not even imagine giving up the possibilities offered by technology. Humanity has changed profoundly and the accumulation of continuous novelties consecrates a fleetingness that drags us to the surface in only one direction. It becomes difficult to stop to recover the depth of life. If architecture reflects the spirit of an era, megastructures and series houses express the spirit of globalized technology, in which the permanent novelty of the products is combined with a heavy boredom.

Let us not resign ourselves to this. Let us not give up asking ourselves questions about the ends and the meaning of everything. Otherwise, we will only legitimize the state of affairs and we will need more surrogates to endure the vacuum.

What is happening confronts us with the urgency of proceeding with a courageous cultural revolution. Science and technology are not neutral, but they can imply different intentions and possibilities from the beginning to the end of a process, and they can be configured in various ways. Nobody wants to go back to the age of caves, but it is essential to slow down in order to look at reality in another way, to collect positive and sustainable developments, and at the same time to recover the values and great goals destroyed by megalomaniacal wantonness.

CRISIS AND CONSEQUENCES OF MAKING PEOPLE THE CENTER OF THE WORLD AND THE ONLY THING THAT MATTERS

Our world today has ended up placing technical reason above reality. We see the as having things that we can use to create what we want. And it does not matter what will result from it. But if human beings cannot rediscover their true place, then they will not adequately understanding themselves. Not only has the earth been given by God to man, who must use it respecting the original intention of good, according to which it was given to him; but man is given to himself by God and must, therefore, respect the natural and moral structure with which he has been endowed.

HELP US GET OUR CEMETERY READY FOR THE LAWN MOWING SEASON

To help us get ready for our lawn mowing season, we ask that you remove any decorations around your cemetery tombstones that might get in the way of our lawn mowing crews. Remember that flowers and plaques must be attached securely to the tombstone or flower vases. Shepherd's crooks, statues, balloons, and the like are not permitted as they are a hazard to our mowing crews.

We believe it is important for all those who are placing flowers on the graves of their loved ones to periodically check them. We have found that some people will place artificial flowers on the grave and then never come and check on them. In the meantime, the flowers get faded and shredded and begin to disintegrate thus causing bits of flowers to be scattered all over the cemetery. Thanks for your help in keeping our cemetery a place of honor and respect as well as a safe place for our lawn mowing crews.

We're still looking for people to join our lawn mowing crews, especially our big mower crews. Maybe you could be one of these people. Call the parish office (812-963-3273), Randy Fehrenbacher, (812-453-5397) or Randy Tenbarge (812-205-5139) to offer your help or for more information. You'll help our parish save money, and you'll help keep our grounds looking nice.
