JUNE 18, 2023 THE ELEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Dear friends,

The work on our church continued this week. Brick masons have been hard at work rebuilding the brick along the edge of the roof and beginning to do the tuck pointing of the exterior brick.

Now we need to do the work of raising the money to pay for all the things we want to do to get our church building in good shape. All told it will take $1.3 million to do this work. We know that our insurance policy will cover about $700,00 of these costs which means we have to raise an additional $600,000.

There is no doubt that this is a big challenge. But nothing compared to the challenge that faced the 140 families in 1888 as they faced the prospect of building a whole new church. It took all their efforts to raise the $15,000 needed to build the new church. This cost was seven times the amount of money they spent in building the first church that was dedicated in 1851. That church cost $2,200. Even more remarkable is that it was twelve times the amount of money they spent to operate the church in 1886. If we had to do the same thing today it would be the equivalent of raising $20 million.

Consider, for a moment, what faced these parishioners. In a typical year, 1886 for example, the parish operating budget was $1,200. That meant that on average, each of the 140 families contributed $8.50 through their weekly offerings for the daily operation of the parish. Now they would also have to come up with an average of $107 if they were to raise the $15,000 needed to build the new church. That is 12 times what they gave in an average year through the collection..

The financial commitment that our ancestors made took a lot. They had to make their contribution to the church a priority. And, no doubt, other things in their life had to sacrificed for that to happen. And we have benefitted from their generosity.

Now it is our time to do the same. The financial commitment of raising $600,000 will take all of our efforts. And it will require a willingness to back up our love for our church with the dollars it will take to repair it. So we will all have to think and pray about how much we are willing to build this new legacy for our church.

In the coming weeks, I will be sending you a letter with a pledge card asking you to make a financial commitment to help rebuild our church. And, just as our ancestors did for us, now we our putting our money on the line so that future generations of our parishioners will benefit from our efforts.

Leaning into the journey of life

Fr. Gene Schroeder

HIS STILLNESS

The doctor said to my father,

"You asked me to tell you
when nothing more could be done.

That's what I'm telling you now."

My father sat quite still,

as he always did,

especially not moving his eyes.

I had thought he would rave
if he understood he would die,
wave his arms and cry out.

He sat up, thin, and clean,
in his clean gown, like a holy man.

The doctor said, "There are things
we can do which might give you time,
but we cannot cure you."

My father said, "Thank you."

And he sat, motionless, alone,
with the dignity of a foreign leader.
I sat beside him. This was my father.

He had known he was mortal.

I had feared they would have to tie him down.

I had not remembered
he had always held still
and kept quiet to bear things,
the liquor a way to keep still.

I had not known him.

My father had dignity.

At the end of his life
his life began to wake in me.

—Sharon Olds

RUMMAGE SALE

Our rummage sale volunteers are the greatest. With their help during the long hours of the week of the rummage sale, we were able to make over $9,000 for our parish.

THANKS

Not only were we able to benefit from our rummage sale, we were also able to share many items with other groups. We sent a whole truck load of items to Goodwill as well as another truck load of furniture and household items to the Habitat Resale Store. We sent a lot of clothes and shoes to the Evansville Christian Life Center and lots and lots of baby and young infant clothes and items to Project Gabriel and to Birthright.

Now we want to take time to celebrate what we have done. So, to all of you who helped in one way or another with our rummage sale, we'd like to treat you to dinner, TUESDAY, JUNE 27 at 5 PM at the Carriage House in Haubstadt. Come join us for a great meal. Call Imogene (812-963-5221 or the Parish Office (812-963-3273) and let us know if you can make it. Let us know by June 25th.

CARING FOR OUR COMMON HOME

In this year of Eucharistic Renewal, we continue reading Pope Francis's teaching letter (encyclical) entitled Laudato Si—Caring for Our Common Home and seeing the real presence of God in all things.

THE DIALOGUE ON THE ENVIRONMENT IN INTERNATIONAL POLICY

Since the middle of the last century, the tendency has been to conceive the planet as a homeland and humanity as a people living in a common home. An interdependent world does not only mean understanding that the harmful consequences of lifestyles, production and consumption affect everyone, but, above all, ensuring that solutions are proposed from a global perspective and not only in defense of the interests of some countries.

Interdependence forces us to think of a single world, of a common project. But the same ingenuity used for enormous technological developments cannot find effective forms of international management in order to solve the serious environmental and social difficulties. In order to tackle the underlying problems, which cannot be solved by actions of individual countries, a global consensus is essential. It leads, for example, to planning sustainable and diversified agriculture, to developing renewable and low-polluting forms of energy, to encourage greater energy efficiency, to promote a more adequate management of forest and marine resources, to ensure access to drinking water for all.

We know that technology based on highly polluting fossil fuels, especially coal, but also oil and, to a lesser extent, gas, must be replaced progressively and without delay. Pending a broad development of renewable energies, which should already have begun, it is legitimate to opt for the less harmful alternative or to resort to transitional solutions.

However, adequate agreements have not been reached in the international community about the responsibility of those who have to bear the major costs of the energy transition. In the last few decades, environmental issues have given rise to a wide public debate, which has made spaces of considerable commitment and generous dedication grow in civil society.

Politics and industry respond slowly to global challenges. While the humanity of the post-industrial period will perhaps be remembered as one of the most irresponsible in history, it is to be hoped that the humanity of the early 21st century will be remembered for having generously assumed their serious responsibilities. TO BE CONTINUED

One of the great ways that you can help with the chicken dinner is to take a packet of tickets and sell them. Check with your family and friends, neighbors, co-workers. Our chicken dinners are really great—enough food for several meals. We don't want to keep all this goodness for just ourselves, so let's spread a little "chicken joy" to others.
