VARIOUS TIDBITS

St. Blaise and Blessing of the Throats

Due to COVID, it is recommended that the priest impart the blessing of throats in honor of St. Blaise, taking the place of the final blessing, to reduce the amount of close contact and “verbal closeness” with individuals. This is out of concern for the individual imparting the blessing and the one receiving it. However, if a person requests an individual blessing, that may be fulfilled (and both minister and recipient should wear masks). This may be done on the feast of Saint Blaise (February 3rd) or the nearest Sunday. [We will respect requests for individual blessings both this weekend and next weekend].

St. Brigid Feast Day

Monday, February 1st is the Feast of St. Brigid. Liturgically, this is celebrated as a Solemnity at St. Brigid and as a Feast Day at Our Lady of Mercy (due to the partner relationship with St. Brigid). In addition to the regular morning Mass at Our Lady of Mercy, there will be a 7pm Mass on Monday at St. Brigid in honor of our patroness.
