Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ July 10, 2022

We can learn a great deal from Mister Rogers. Remember him? He was the gentle soul who found his way into living rooms worldwide starting as far back as 1968. Mister Rogers' Neighborhood was a beloved program that celebrated and exalted people, especially children. He taught us that we are neighbors and that everyone has a place. Everyone matters. He had a vision, born of his relationship with God that highlighted every human life's innocence, beauty, and uniqueness. To that end, he called us to be responsible for each other, saying nothing different than what Jesus said. Viewers quickly learned that life is not just about me.

"We live in a world in which we need to share responsibility. It's easy to say, 'It's not my child, not my community, not my world, not my problem.' Then there are those who see the need and respond. I consider those people my heroes (Fred Rogers)." It is so easy to look the other way. After all, I'm not the one who needs to leave home out of fear and try to find somewhere safe. I am not the one who is hungry and without shelter or food. I am not the one who has a child being bullied or ridiculed because of the way they dress or act. I am not the one being threatened with violence or unable to find meaningful work. The distress and agony of our neighbors are our distress and agony. We cannot walk by it with an attitude of indifference, especially if we call ourselves believers. When we no longer care, we have suffocated our souls. This is a great sin.

God's law "is something very near to you, already in your mouths and in your hearts; you have only to carry it out." We all have a need for love and acceptance. That's why Mister Rogers' television show was so popular. It spoke to something deeper, something sacred about humanity. God didn't give us his law in a book. He wrote it on our hearts. We know what we need to do. It's a matter of choice. Love is sacred. When we love another human being, especially without regard for ourselves, it is a holy moment. These moments are often missed due to our self-serving agendas and rules. ©LPi

HUMAN HISTORY IS CHRIST-CENTERED

We live in a culture that surrounds us with unlimited options. We turn on the satellite radio and we have 200 different stations to choose from. We turn on the TV and we have hundreds of channels to choose from. We go to the store to buy cereal and we walk down a 30-yard-long aisle to inspect all the varieties. We mention that we want to go to college, buy a house or a car, and hundreds of institutions mail us brochures. This dizzying abundance is one of the great achievements of modern civilization. But it brings a danger with it, the danger of forgetting what's at the center of it all. Since we have so much to choose from, we can easily fall into the mental habit of thinking that we are the center of the universe. This is called self-centeredness, and it is a lie. Like the little maps at the entrance to our big malls, we can tend to orient ourselves, to direct our decisions strictly in accordance with our own whims and likes. The mall maps tell us, "You are here" and have a big arrow pointing to one place on the map, as if that were the most important place, even though it just happens to be the place where you're standing. In the map of human history and the map of the universe, the most important place is not where we happen to be standing. We are not the center of human history or the center of the universe - Jesus Christ is. "In him were created all things in heaven and earth," St Paul tells us in the Second Reading. "All things were created through him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together." This is called Christ-centeredness. It's the opposite of self-centeredness, and it's true.

Many critics of Catholicism accuse the Church of being anti-science. They misinterpret the famous Galileo affair that occurred in the 1600s. They say that the Church was afraid of the new astronomy. But the Church had been encouraging astronomical research even before the invention of the telescope - Copernicus, in fact, was a Catholic priest in good standing. The difficulty with the new discoveries was simply that at first, it was hard to understand how to fit them together with the language of the Bible. Eventually that was worked out, and the Church has always continued to encourage honest and responsible science. In fact, the Vatican has an observatory in Az. tasked to study the wonders of outer space. The truths of science can never contradict the truths of our faith, when both are understood properly, because God is the author of both. Science and faith will always be in harmony. The truths about the world around us purposely echo the most fundamental truth of all: that Christ is the center of the universe and of history. The case of the solar system is a prime example. All the planets rotate around the central and most important body, the sun. And the sun produces the light, heat, and energy that make life on earth possible. The sun, in fact, is the center of our solar system. It may seem to our senses that the earth is in the center, but the truth is the contrary. Just so with our spiritual solar system. Christ is the source of the spiritual light and grace that we need to live a meaningful life. Many people don't realize it, but it's true nonetheless. Christ is the eternal Son of God, and also the "sun" around which history revolves. Earth revolves around the S-U-N, but humanity revolve around the S-O-N. In every area of human experience, when we discover more truth, we naturally tend to adjust our living habits to be in harmony with that truth. When we found out that automobiles were spewing out cancer-causing pollution, we passed laws to make cleaner engines. When we found out that bacteria cause infections, we developed penicillin to destroy bacteria. The same thing applies to religious truth. As Christians, we have the privilege of knowing that Jesus is the Lord and Savior of human history, and the Lord and Savior of each one of our lives. And so we should adjust our way of thinking and living to be more and more centered on him. We should study what he has told us about how to live. We should dedicate ourselves to living as he lived. We should repent from the sins that distance us from him. We should make use of the many gifts he has given us to help us through life, like prayer, the sacrament of confession, the Bible, the guidance of the Church, the sacrament of the Eucharist. Jesus is the center of history and the universe, and we have received the great gift of knowing this. All of us want to live in accordance with this truth - otherwise you probably wouldn’t be reading this article. Jesus wants the same thing. Today he is inviting us to renew our efforts towards doing so. As the Lord prepares to strengthen us again in Holy Communion this week, let's each ask ourselves what one thing we can do this week to live a more Christ-centered life. Because the more Christ-centered our lives become, the truer they will be, and, as Christ himself taught us, only the truth will set us free.

Blessings,
Fr. Shawn

Our annual Diocesan Conference is taking place IN PERSON again this year at the Orleans Hotel Friday, September 9th and Saturday, September 10th. Our theme is: Becoming ... "Behold what we are: may we become what we receive." St. Augustine We are also excited that this year's Conference is a two full-day event with a parish staff in-service and more than 30 speakers offering topics to enrich the faith of all Catholic adults. Our theme follows the direction of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops as we celebrate a three-year Eucharistic Revival across our country. We are called by God to be a Eucharistic people who understand and act on the words Jesus spoke to his disciples, "Take and eat this is My Body. Take and drink this is My Blood." As a Diocese, we are nourished and sent from the celebration of the Eucharist to be the hands, feet and voice of Christ in the world! The Conference offers us a unique opportunity to gather together, grow in faith and find ways to live and proclaim it more effectively in our lives.

OUTREACH

The Outreach Pantry is open
Monday – Wednesday from 10:00am until 11:30am

If you are in need of some help during these trying times, please call our office at (702) 871-1904.

The Outreach pantry shelves are in desperate need of replenishment. Consider purchasing additional during your next grocery visit to help restock the food pantry.

ITEMS NEEDED:
Pancake Mix, Syrup, Soups, Pasta, Pasta Sauce, Mac and Cheese, Chef Boyardee, Peanut butter, Chili, Tuna, Corn, Canned Chicken, Beef Stew and Bottled Water

Your donations can be left in the gathering space or the Parish Office during office hours. It would be greatly appreciated as we continue to help the less fortunate. Please call the office for more information.
No Glass Jars please.

We could also use some hygiene products. Do you have any of the shampoo, conditioner, lotions that you get when you travel?

Please DO NOT drop off food donations on Thursday and Friday due to the parish and outreach offices being closed. When food donations are left outside the doors and due to the hot weather, it attracts insects.

Please keep in mind that the Outreach program DOES NOT accept clothing, furniture, or other personal donated items.

Thank you for all your support and understanding.

Our Next Blood Drive is Sunday, July 17, 2022.

Sign up for an appointment to donate blood by calling the office, visiting the vitalant.com website, or filling out the sign up sheet in the Entrance Area.

DONATING BLOOD MAKES AN IMPACT

Your role in the world matters.

When you give blood with Vitalant, you have the potential to help hospital patients within your community and, when the need arises, others across the country.

When extreme weather and unforeseen tragedies occur, our experienced nationwide team members jump into action to quickly deliver blood where it's needed most. The benefits of our larger footprint are vast, including leveraging our coast-to-coast network of donation centers so every donation has the potential to impact more lives.

Many people believe that most blood is needed after major disasters. However, daily personal emergencies and ongoing medical needs of thousands of patients require a constant and ready blood supply. It's the blood already on hospital shelves that saves lives.

Every day in the U.S., patients in hospitals, surgical centers and emergency treatment facilities need approximately:

- ♥ 29,000 units of red blood cells
- ♥ 5,000 units of platelets
- ♥ 6,500 units of plasma

Nevadans for the Common Good

Four of our Christ the King Catholic Church's NCG core team attended the Nevadans for the Common Good Delegate Assembly on June 28th at Holy Family Catholic Church, joining with 120 delegates from over 35 member institutions to ratify the 2022-23 annual budget, and to affirm the strategy proposed for the next fiscal year by the NCG Steering Committee. The strategy includes three main topics. First, "Engaging our Neighbors" is a continuation of neighborhood walks planned for this Fall to listen to people's various concerns on issues facing our community. Second, the "Issues Teams" reported on two areas, one is continuing focus on Affordable Housing to protect the vulnerable unable to keep up with rapidly rising rental costs. NCG held public meetings with County Commissioners during development of the newly passed County regulations on short-term rental housing which had been worsening the problem of rental increases. The second issue area is Mental Health challenges to find more solutions to address concerns for the rising numbers amongst us who are in crisis. The third strategy topic is NCG will gather for the next Delegate Assembly on November 15, both to observe the ten-year anniversary as an organization here in the Las Vegas community and to plan for making connections with the newly elected State and local officials and representatives. Information on NCG is available on the web site https://www.nevadansforthecommongood.org/ . Your CTK NCG team would welcome more participation by interested CTK parishioners; contact Paul Fransioli by calling (702) 630-3998 and leave your contact information for a return call.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

FIRST READING: Toward the end of their 40-years of desert wanderings, Moses assured the Israelites that God's commandments and statutes are within each of us as long as we repent. How do you sustain a disposition of repentance?
SECOND READING: In his letter to the Colossians, Paul inserts a very early Christological hymn that speaks to Jesus' divinity and his role as the mediator of creation and the source of reconciliation. How do you imagine the Colossians reacting to this astonishing teaching on Jesus?
GOSPEL: In the parable of the good Samaritan, Jesus taught the scribe the importance of showing mercy toward one's neighbor as central to following God's law. How well do you practice the virtue of mercy?©LPi

Catechists and Assistants Needed For Faith Formation

Would you like to take part in the great privilege of forming the hearts and minds of future generations in the Catholic faith? Our parish Faith Formation Program relies on the dedicated and generous service of volunteers who serve as parish catechists and assistants. If you would like to serve our CTK parish community by helping to hand-on the Catholic faith to children in grades kindergarten through high school, become a volunteer catechist or assistant today!
Parish Faith Formation classes are currently held on Sundays and Wednesdays — September through May, once a week. For more information contact the faith formation office or email mariao@ctkccnv.org (702) 871-1904 ext. 288.

The ministry of catechist is one of the oldest ministries of the Church. A “catechist” is one who teaches the principles of Christian dogma, discipline, and ethics to prepare people for participation in Christian life. The word “catechesis” means to echo or to resound, an appropriate meaning for what a catechist does in passing of the faith tradition to the children of our parish.

To be a catechist, you must:

- ♥ be a practicing Catholic
- ♥ be in communion with the Church
- ♥ complete a ministry application
- ♥ be fingerprinted and complete the CMG Connect online
- ♥ continue your own faith formation and not afraid to learn
