Our Lady of the Black Hills exists to proclaim the joy of the Gospel to all creation and to transform lives with the Father's mercy.

“For we know partially and we prophesy partially, but when the perfect comes, the partial will pass away. When I was a child, I used to talk as a child, reason as a child; when I became a man, I put aside childish things. At present we see indistinctly, as in a mirror, but then face to face. At present I know partially; then I shall know fully, as I am fully known. So faith, hope, love remain, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

(1 Cor 13:9-13:13)

While attending weddings, most of us have heard this passage from the First Letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians. It is one of those readings that almost has a permanent place in the celebration of the Sacrament of Marriage. But at the same time, we realize that it doesn't take a rocket scientist to discover that we are all imperfect. To live out the call to perfect love, love that reflects God and the good of others, is difficult to achieve. Scripture is clear — that because of our limitations, we can only perceive perfect love “as in a mirror.” That means we are incapable of loving each other in the absolute way that St. Paul describes in today's second reading. Clearly, Paul knows that he himself is imperfect, but he also knows that perfection will come one day and that our imperfections will all be done away with (1 Cor 13:10). When will that be? When Jesus comes again in glory.

What do we do in the meantime? St. Paul encourages us not to despair. Love is the greatest gift we can possess; out of love God sent Jesus for our salvation. We are called to increase our love for each other. That we can only experience something in a partial way should not discourage us from trying our best to achieve one of the highest qualities of our life; genuine love of others and for ourselves. Yes, it is true we can only aspire to love as Jesus did and as St. Paul calls us to. However, as those who belong to God, we do possess the ability to achieve higher goals in this life. Through the grace of God present in the sacraments, we are reminded daily of the image of God we carry in ourselves. Even though we cannot achieve perfection in genuine love. We still search and long for it for we recognize in it the path to hope and salvation.

Since we are pilgrims in this life, journeying towards our Heavenly home, a place where we will no longer see only the reflection but the reality of God Himself, let us support and nourish each other. Sometimes we may get “stuck” and be unable to love because of hurt, disappointments or our perceived “coldness” of God, but with every journey to reach the destination, we need to keep moving. I encourage you to search for new ways of channeling your love in this world and for this world. Do it for this world, your friends and family, those you know and those you might come to know, do it for the glory of God, do it for yourself. At the end, keep in mind that love is the greatest (the genuine love).

Lord Jesus, make us generous evangelizers and sowers of your word in all kinds of soil. Fill us with zeal and courage, Lord, to go forth and spread your seeds of love all over the world!

Father Andrzej

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jer 1:4-5, 17-19 | 1 Cor 12:31—13:13 or 1 Cor 13:4-13 | Lk 4:21-30

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

Wait, what? One moment the people of Nazareth embrace Jesus, but as soon as he challenges them the crowd turns on a dime, and moves toward throwing him off a cliff. The Son of God, also the son of a carpenter, goes from hometown hero to persona non grata just like that, prefiguring his death on the cross and giving credence to his admonition that “no prophet is accepted in his own native place.” From the earliest moments of his public ministry as recorded in Luke, Jesus’ love for us is prominent. He never faltered. He never wavered. He moved forward to continue his mission of fulfilling God’s will for him, and be a sacrifice once and for all for our sins. Perhaps we have had a similar experience of being the “hero” for someone, only to somehow end up the goat. It is not easy to remain steadfast in our daily mission to love as Jesus loved. Today’s readings assure us that God will give us the grace to do so.

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

It can be challenging to square Paul’s eulogy of love with the reality of day-to-day living with a spouse, family members, and friends. Love is patient ... except when I’m late getting out to the car for church again. Love is kind ... except between crabby siblings who want to watch different shows on Netflix. It is not quick-tempered ... unless you thoughtlessly back into my car in the driveway. It occurs to me that perhaps Paul’s words aren’t entirely about us, but about the perfect love of God. It’s pretty amazing to think that God loves us in all the ways Paul describes. As we open our hearts to God’s love and deepen our relationship with Jesus through prayer, we may find that love spilling over into our daily interactions. For when we are kind, we love; when we are patient, we love; when we are not quick-tempered, we love.

PRAY Although our love for one another is imperfect, we must strive to love as Jesus loved each day, and there is no better place to start than prayer. Ask a friend or family member this week if they have any concerns you can include in your prayers. Or request a Mass for someone who is going through a tough time or who has recently died.
