"Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you."

(Jn 20:21)

Jubilation from John

Peace be with you. According to the Gospel of John, these were the first words that the Risen Christ spoke to his frightened, confused, doubtful disciples. Locked in the upper room for fear of the Jews, the disciples were offered peace—and then sent to share that peace with others: "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you" (Jn 20:21). On Easter Sunday, Fr. Andrzej repeatedly challenged us with Pilate's question: What is truth? On this Divine Mercy Sunday, the first words of the Risen Christ implicitly challenge us with a similar question: What is peace?

What does peace look like in a world torn by war and terror? What does peace act like in a country divided into red and blue states? What does peace feel like in the busyness of my everyday life? What is peace? We tend to think of peace as the absence of conflict and dissension. We tend to regard peace as the presence of security and unity. Much like the idyllic scene of the primordial Church painted in this Sunday's reading from the Acts of the Apostles: "All who believed were together and had all things in common; they would sell their property and possessions and divide them among all according to each one's need. Every day they devoted themselves to meeting together in the temple area and to breaking bread in their homes" (Acts 2:44-46). Yet we know from the letters of St. Paul that this peaceful picture of the Church did not endure. From Apostolic Times to the present, even the Church has been torn by heresy and schism—its original communion fractured along many lines.

The peace that Jesus offers to you and me is not peace as we tend to define it. Not as the world gives does Jesus give peace. The peace that Jesus offers us is not of this world—it is beyond this world and it cannot be disturbed by earthly affairs. The peace that Jesus offers his disciples is not the absence of conflict and struggle in this world—but the indwelling of God's presence in their hearts. In the midst of fear and confusion and doubt, the Risen Christ bestowed the divine presence of peace upon his disciples: "Receive the Holy Spirit" (Jn 20:22)—and he gave them the divine authority that communicates true peace: "Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained" (Jn 20:23). This is the Divine Mercy that we celebrate this Sunday—divine mercy that heals hearts wounded by sin and restores peace beyond our understanding—peace not as the world gives but the everlasting peace of God's Kingdom.

As Jesus said to St. Faustina in an apparition, "Humanity will never find peace until it turns with trust to Divine Mercy." When Pope St. John Paul II declared that the Second Sunday of Easter will be celebrated as Divine Mercy Sunday, he said, "Divine Mercy! This is the Easter gift that the Church receives from the risen Christ and offers to humanity... [On this day] the Lord shows us his glorious wounds and his heart, an inexhaustible source of light and truth, of love and forgiveness... the gift of 'forgiving sins,' a gift that flows from the wounds in his hands, his feet, and especially from his pierced side. From there a wave of mercy is poured out over all humanity."

Peace be with you!

Deacon John

Dear Parishioners of Our Lady of the Black Hills,

We are so grateful for your generous donation of $1,268.00 to the RCCSS Packing Hope Project. With your donation, 6,854 meals were packed for those in need. Our total number of meals packed this year was 120,096. Witnessing people reach deep into their pockets and give selflessly from what they have for the sake of others teaches us about charity and responding to the basic needs of humanity as we journey together through this life.

Both events, the Family/Parish Packing Event on the 2nd, and the RCCSS School Packing Event on the 3rd, were immensely successful in building community and answering Christ's call to bring hope to the poor and vulnerable.

Following Easter break, we will be praying the Rosary for your parish.

"Charity is the cement which binds communities to God and persons to one another" – St. Vincent de Paul.

With Gratitude,

The St. Thomas More Class of 2025

Sunday of Divine Mercy

Acts 2:42-47 | 1 Pt 1:3-9 | Jn 20:19-31

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

"I'll believe it when I see it." We've all said this at some point, usually in response to hearing about someone unreliable doing something out of character. St. Thomas had the same reaction in today's Gospel when he wasn't there when the other disciples saw Christ for the first time since he rose from his tomb – "Unless I see the mark of the nails in his hands and put my finger into the nailmarks and put my hand into his side, I will not believe." Although Jesus helped Thomas with his unbelief, he blesses those who have not seen, but believe. Have any of us seen the nail marks in Christ's hands and feet, or the wound in his side? Do we see Christ's body and blood on the altar, or do we see only the gifts of bread and wine? Christ comes to us in ways we can understand initially – parables, bread and wine, the face of people we meet throughout our daily lives – but our faith in what we have not seen, in the great mystery of our salvation, is what makes us Christian.

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

In today's first reading, we hear reports of the lives of the first disciples soon after Pentecost: communal living, breaking bread together, prayer, selling of their property and possessions and redistributing among themselves according to individual needs. To our ears today, this idyllic community living seems almost incredible. Yet these first disciples were infused with the Holy Spirit, who enabled them to proclaim the Gospel and think of others before themselves. As Christ's disciples today, how are we behaving toward one another? If we truly are among those who have not seen and yet believe, let's act in full confidence. As we heard in the second reading, our faith is "more precious than gold that is perishable even though tested by fire." We certainly aren't perfect, and our faith at times can be sorely tested, and yet this is our call: to share this faith by doing good works in Christ's name to make disciples and build the kingdom of God.

INVITATION People often see Christ through the words and actions of others. This week, actively seek out opportunities to be the hands of Christ. What opportunities does your community have to practice corporal works of mercy?
