"I am the way, the truth, and the life, says the Lord; no one comes to the Father, except through me."

(John 14:6)

As we approach the summer days and as we look forward to the vacation time, we realize that another busy season is behind us. Perhaps we are wondering what we have done and what we need to do. We reach each other in variety of ways – thank you for every moment of your kindness. People volunteer for many reasons, but the most common one is the good of others. This good of others is also at the heart of our Christian faith, faith that has its beginning in the gift of God's sacrifice for us – God's Love for His people. Pope Benedict XVI describes it very well in his Encyclical Letter "Deus Caritas Est." We read in it that "God has made himself visible: in Jesus we are able to see the Father (cf. Jn 14:9).

Indeed, God is visible in several ways. In the love-story recounted by the Bible, he comes towards us and he seeks to win our hearts, all the way to the Last Supper, to the piercing of his heart on the Cross, to his appearances after the Resurrection and to the great deeds by which through the activity of the Apostles he guided the nascent Church along its path. Nor has the Lord been absent from subsequent Church history: he encounters us ever anew, in the men and women who reflect his presence, in his word, in the sacraments, and especially in the Eucharist. In the Church's Liturgy, in her prayer, in the living community of believers, we experience the love of God, we perceive his presence, and we thus learn to recognize that presence in our daily lives.

He has loved us first and he continues to do so; we too, then, can respond with love. God does not demand of us a feeling, which we ourselves are incapable of producing. He loves us, he makes us see and experience his love, and since he has "loved us first", love can also blossom as a response within us." (Deus Caritas Est # 17) Reading "Deus Caritas Est" one can learn even more. So often we use the word "love" where many of us have lost its meaning. We use the word "love" to describe our feeling for one another (love between husband and wife) but at the same time we use it to describe our approach to the material things (I love this car; I love your haircut) as well as to describe some temporary state of our life (I love to take a nap). Maybe that is why it is difficult to grasp the full meaning of Christian love when we talk about the meaning of "love" in context of sacrifice, a sacrifice that has its beginning in God.

The Christian meaning of love is more than a word; it is a lifestyle that recognizes its value in the context of God's grace and sacrifice. Therefore, it is not us who are in charge, but it is us who are invited to respond to God's example of service and sacrifice for others. "This proper way of serving others also leads to humility. The one who serves does not consider himself superior to the one served, however miserable his situation at the moment may be. Christ took the lowest place in the world—the Cross—and by this radical humility he redeemed us and constantly comes to our aid.

Those who are in a position to help others will realize that in doing so they themselves receive help; being able to help others is no merit or achievement of their own. This duty is a grace. The more we do for others, the more we understand and can appropriate the words of Christ: "We are useless servants" (Lk 17:10). We recognize that we are not acting on the basis of any superiority or greater personal efficiency, but because the Lord has graciously enabled us to do so. There are times when the burden of need and our own limitations might tempt us to become discouraged. But precisely then we are helped by the knowledge that, in the end, we are only instruments in the Lord's hands." (Deus Caritas Est #35) To all volunteers, who sacrifice in any way for the good of others, I say Thank You. May God who gave you the ability to volunteer and the grace to carry it through our cooperation, may you always be in His loving Heart.

Fifth Sunday of Easter

Acts 6:1-7 | 1 Pt 2:4-9 | Jn 14:1-12

GROW AS A DISCIPLE | PRAY, STUDY, ENGAGE, SERVE

Recently, I went through a period of spiritual dryness, and I questioned my ability to make faith the central tenet of my life. Although I had always loved reading Scripture, I felt I needed reassurance that God was truly present with me. So I did what many people do: I asked God for a sign that he was real. Nothing happened. The sky didn't open; doves and rays of light didn't magically appear announcing God's presence. Although I didn't receive what I envisioned as a "heavenly sign," I looked down at the Bible in my hands and realized that God's word, handed down through the millennia, had been my companion all this time and was indeed the "sign" I was looking for. Which is why Jesus' question to Philip in today's Gospel struck a chord with me: "Have I been with you for so long a time and you still do not know me?" If Jesus asked me this same question, I want to be able to answer, "Yes, Lord, I know you through your sacred word, through partaking of the Eucharist and through the strength and guidance of the Holy Spirit who is with me each and every day."

GO EVANGELIZE

PRAYER, INVITATION, WITNESS, ACCOMPANIMENT

What does "knowing Jesus" mean for me in my everyday life? It means hearing his words and acting on them: "I am the way and the truth and the life ... If you know me, then you will also know my Father." In following Christ, we know that Jesus is in the Father and the Father is in him. Jesus Christ is God! And as we heard in the second reading from Peter, we are not Christians on a lonely road; we are living stones that form a spiritual house. We are "called out of darkness into his wonderful light," as he describes it. Therefore, let us not be afraid to lean on our fellow Christians when we need support. And then, of course, we turn to Jesus, the cornerstone, the bedrock of our faith, and rejoice in his love for us.

ACTION Faith is rarely a straight path - sometimes there are sharp curves, steep hills, or roadblocks. If you feel lost or could use someone to talk to about faith, reach out to your parish and ask about contacting a spiritual director. Come, Holy Spirit, and fill me with your grace.

I am the way and the truth
and the life.”
