

No Public Mass guidelines update from Archbishop Schnurr.

The following is an update from the archbishop concerning the policies that are to be followed for no public Mass.

1. A deacon may assist, with due concern for those deacons in a higher risk category.
2. When possible, another minister may assist as a reader, with due concern for those in higher risk category
3. Music, especially in liturgies that are live-streamed and for Holy Week services, the assistance of 1 or 2 cantors can be beneficial, as well as use of the organ.
4. No Mass may have more than 10 people in attendance and all social distancing norms must be followed.

Considering these guidelines, the Live Streamed Masses from Transfiguration will have the following:

All daily Masses and Sunday Masses, the priest will be accompanied by the seminarian, Curtis Gross.

Palm Sunday will have two cantors, the seminarian and 1 or 2 lectors.

Holy Thursday will have 2 cantors, the seminarian and 1 or 2 lectors

Good Friday will have 2 cantors, the seminarian, 1 or 2 lectors.

Easter Vigil will have 2 lectors, 2 cantors, an organist and the seminarian.

Easter Sunday will consist of 2 cantors, an organist, 1 lector and the seminarian.
